i enjoy xm radio tremendously. on a recent 5 day travel trip to visit with my girlfriend i was able to benefit from the weather channels while on the road, and i was able to benefit from the news channels by hearing all national and international news and staying on top of current events. by the end of a 10 hour day of driving (5 days worth) i was so tired i could not keep my eyes open and therefore could not watch a TV news broadcast at nite. if there were any news that could impact my trip or plans to visit it was sure nice to know that i was being kept up with it all, very conveniently. thank you for allowing my voice to count! gary shapiro
